

Online Respect Answer Key

Sample Responses

1. It means showing respect for others' privacy and comfort when communicating online.
2. Asking before posting a friend's picture.
3. It can make others feel uncomfortable, embarrassed, or unsafe.
4. Because it protects a person's privacy and shows respect for their permission.
5. I might feel upset, annoyed, or embarrassed.
6. By asking before posting and using kind language in messages.
7. "Please don't post that picture of me without asking first."

Teacher's Guide

- Purpose: Teaches students how to recognize and respect digital boundaries in texting, posting, and online communication. Encourages self-awareness, empathy, and responsible technology use.
- Differentiation Tips:
  - Read the passage aloud and discuss vocabulary such as "digital," "respect," and "boundaries."
  - Provide sentence frames like "Digital boundaries mean..." for emerging writers.
  - Allow oral responses or small-group discussions for students who need expressive support.
- Engagement Ideas:
  - Create class examples of "digital respect" versus "digital mistakes" and discuss their outcomes.
  - Have students design short posters or slogans about safe and respectful online behavior.
- Extension Ideas:
  - Encourage students to write a short paragraph describing a time they showed digital respect.
  - Connect this lesson to digital citizenship topics such as online safety, privacy, and empathy in communication.