Directions: Read each short passage below. Then rewrite it in the requested point of view. Be sure to adjust pronouns and details as needed.

Passage A (First-Person) → Rewrite in Third-Person point of view.

I held my umbrella tightly as the storm raged above me. My shoes splashed in the puddles, and I wished I had stayed home instead of walking to the store.

Passage B (Third-Person) → Rewrite in First-Person point of view.

Ella sprinted across the field, her backpack bouncing behind her. She hoped she wouldn't miss the bus this time.

Passage C (Third-Person) → Rewrite in Second-Person point of view.

You step into the museum, staring at the giant skeleton of a dinosaur. It feels as though the bones are watching your every move.

Extension Challenge: Choose one of your rewrites and change it again; this time into a different point of view of your choice.
