

Name _____

The Science Fair Redo

Directions: Read the paragraph carefully. Circle or underline all the words that have prefixes. Then, answer the comprehension questions that follow.

When Jenna discovered that her science project had disappeared, she felt completely unprepared for the school fair. Her little brother tried to rebuild the model volcano, but it looked uneven and incorrect. Determined not to give up, Jenna decided to restart the project using recycled materials. By the end of the night, she had an even better volcano that could explode without causing a mess. When she brought it to school the next morning, her teacher was impressed by her effort and creativity. Jenna learned that even after mistakes, you can always redo and recover from challenges!
