

Name _____

Classroom Buzz Answer Key

(Student answers will vary, but here is a model for accuracy.)

Classmate's Name	Answer in Present Continuous
Anna	is writing in her notebook.
James	is reading a book.
Mia	is talking to a friend.
David	is drawing a picture.
Sarah	is checking her homework.

Sample Summary

"My classmates are doing different activities. Anna is writing in her notebook and James is reading a book. Mia is talking to a friend, while David is drawing a picture. Sarah is checking her homework. Everyone is busy right now."

Teacher Notes

- Focus Point: This activity encourages students to form present continuous sentences naturally in real conversation.
- Teaching Tip: Model the question "What are you doing?" and a few correct responses before starting the activity.
- Common Error Alert: Students may forget to use is/are + -ing. Reinforce the formula: Subject + am/is/are + verb-ing.
- Extension Idea: Turn the survey into a graphing activity: have students tally how many classmates are doing similar actions (e.g., "3 students are writing, 2 students are talking") and present results to the class.