Same Question, Different Attitude

AI pays attention not just to what you ask, but how you ask it. A neutral prompt can be dressed up in different tones: serious, silly, excited, or even urgent. Tone changes the “flavor” of the answer, even if the core request stays the same. Your challenge: take the neutral prompt below and rewrite it five times, each one with a different tone. Think about word choice, phrasing, and style.
