Teacher's Guide

- Model the process by covering the blank with your finger and asking students what sound they hear in the middle. This helps them choose the correct r-controlled vowel.
- Provide a small reference chart of ar, or, er, ir, ur for students who need visual support.
- For students who need more challenge, have them write a sentence using two of the completed words.
- For extra engagement, read each completed word aloud together and sort them into groups based on the vowel pattern.
