Directions: Read the passage. For each claim, list two pieces of textual evidence that support it.

Every Saturday morning in April, the students of Ridgeview Middle School met at the town park with gloves, bags, and buckets. At first, only a few people showed up, but word spread quickly. By the third weekend, more than fifty volunteers were working together to clean the paths, plant flowers, and repaint the picnic tables. The parks director noticed the change and donated new trash bins and benches. By the end of the month, families returned to the park for picnics and games, and the once littered field was full of laughter again.
