Teacher's Guide

- Review the place value named in each problem before students begin matching.
- Encourage students to round each number first, then find the matching letter.
- Support students by having them cross out each answer choice after it has been used.
- Have partners compare matches and explain why each rounded value is correct.
- Turn the activity into a relay by having teams complete one match at a time.
- Extend learning by asking students to write two new matching pairs for classmates to solve.
