Track And Understand

Directions: Read the short story carefully. Some sentences are run-ons. Underline the run-on sentences. Then, answer the comprehension questions that follow in complete sentences.

It was Saturday morning Mia woke up early. She wanted to ride her bike to the park her best friend was already waiting there. The sun was shining and the birds chirped happily. Mia packed a snack she also brought her favorite book. She waved goodbye to her parents then she raced down the street.

At the park, Mia and her friend played on the swings they laughed until their stomachs hurt. After playing, they spread a blanket on the grass and enjoyed their snacks. Mia read aloud from her book her friend listened closely. The afternoon passed quickly soon it was time to go home.
