Teacher's Guide

- Quick implementation: Review the number of yearly pay periods for each frequency. Students divide each annual salary by the appropriate number and match the result to the answer bank.
- Differentiation: Have students write the divisor, such as 52 or 26, beside each problem before calculating.
- Engagement: Let students cross out answer-bank choices as they make matches to turn the activity into a process-of-elimination challenge.
- Extension: Ask students to select two answer-bank amounts and work backward to verify the corresponding annual salaries.
