Beginning To Ending Answer Key

Correct Chart:

Story Stage	Event
Beginning	Jonah realized he left his homework on the kitchen table.
Rising	He worried; explained to his teacher; neighbor called her mom to help.
Climax	Jonah's neighbor's mom brought the homework to school.
Ending	Jonah handed it to his teacher and felt relieved.

Teacher Guide/Notes:

- Emphasize that the climax is the turning point or the most intense moment.
In this story, it's when the homework finally arrives.
- The rising action may include more than one event leading up to the climax: students can group them together.
