Shila the squirrel loved to play near the old garden shed behind her house. One sunny day, she spotted a tiny shell sitting in the grass and held it up so it could shine in the light. When she walked closer to the shed, she saw her friend Shawn building a small shop out of wooden blocks. Shila gave a happy shout and showed him the shell she had found. The two friends decided to share the shell by placing it on the top shelf of the pretend shop.
