

Name _____

Short or Long? The Great Prompt Debate!

Not every task needs the same kind of prompt. Sometimes a short prompt is the best fit because it gives the AI freedom to be creative or quick. Other times, a long prompt works better because the task requires structure, rules, or precision. The skill is knowing which type of prompt to use.

Directions - Read each task. Decide if it would work better with a short prompt or a long prompt. Write your choice and then explain why in one sentence.

1. Task: Brainstorm ten silly new ice cream flavors.

Best Fit: _____ Reason: _____

2. Task: Write a professional business email asking for a job interview.

Best Fit: _____ Reason: _____

3. Task: Generate a random fun fact for the morning announcements.

Best Fit: _____ Reason: _____

4. Task: Create a 3-paragraph essay about why recycling is important, including three main arguments.

Best Fit: _____ Reason: _____

5. Task: Come up with three funny names for a new video game.

Best Fit: _____ Reason: _____

6. Task: Write a formal legal disclaimer for a new company's website.

Best Fit: _____ Reason: _____