Teacher's Guide

- Grades 3 to 5 can complete the blanks after a short mini lesson on the Southern Ocean.
- Grades 6 to 8 can be asked to justify why each word fits the sentence.
- Encourage students to refer back to notes or earlier lessons about world oceans.

Differentiation Tips

- Provide sentence starters for younger learners.
- Allow oral responses or partner discussion before writing.
- Offer a shortened word bank for students who struggle with vocabulary.

Engagement Ideas

- Show pictures of icebergs or penguins before students begin.
- Ask students what they think the coldest part of the ocean world might feel like.
- Create a quick class brainstorm of Southern Ocean facts and build excitement.

Extension Activities

- Students write three new sentences using words from the word bank.
- Assign a mini research task about an animal that lives in the Southern Ocean.
