Teacher's Guide

- Read the passage aloud once before students work independently.
- Point out how small word changes can turn a true idea into a trick.
- For support, re read one sentence at a time and match it to a statement.
- For engagement, let students act out true statements with simple motions.
- For extension, have students write one new true and one new trick sentence about the story.
- For advanced learners, challenge them to explain which exact word made a statement false.
