Directions: Read the passage below. Then answer the comprehension questions that follow.

On a cool afternoon, a small group of friends met at the old wooden lookout near the edge of the forest. From the lookout, they could view the wide valley below, where cows moved slowly across the grass. One friend, Drew, brought a brown notebook to jot down anything interesting they saw. Soon, a loud swoosh of wings passed overhead as a large owl glided toward the trees. The group stood still, eager to spot more creatures before the sun went down.
