Directions: Read the passage. Circle or highlight each variant vowel word. Then tally how many you found for each pattern in the chart.

On a cool morning, Drew and his cousin Joel rode their bikes toward the old wooden boardwalk near the marsh. A noisy brown crow swooped low as the two boys paused to view the slow moving water. Joel pointed to a small boat floating by and shouted with joy when he saw a school of bright fish swim out from below the dock. The boys continued their ride, careful not to follow the rocky path too closely.
