Teacher's Guide

- Review the four diphthong patterns first: oi, oy, ou, ow. Say each aloud so students can hear the glide.
- Read each word pair together before independent work. Encourage students to listen for the vowel sound rather than guessing from the spelling.
- For students who need more support, provide a mini anchor chart showing when oi usually appears in the middle of words and oy at the end, as well as common positions for ou and ow.
- For an extension task, have students write a short sentence using three of the correct words or illustrate two words to reinforce meaning and spelling.
