Directions: Read each passage. Decide who the narrator is. Write your answer on the line and explain what clues helped you figure it out.

1. I spent most of the afternoon stuck under the couch again. Every time I tried to escape, a stray sock brushed over my face. When someone finally noticed me, I was rolled right back into the corner with all the dust.

Who is the narrator? _____

Clues: _____

2. I watched the new student very carefully today. She sat in my favorite seat, the one I always prepare myself for. I am not sure she knows how important that spot is, but I will be ready for her tomorrow.

Who is the narrator? _____

Clues: _____

3. My owner thinks I don't understand numbers, but I keep perfect track of them. He left me on the kitchen counter for exactly 9 minutes before picking me up again. Honestly, I don't know how he gets anything done without me buzzing at him.

Who is the narrator? _____

Clues: _____

4. Everyone keeps talking in the room, but no one glances at me unless they want something. I stand here all day, watching people walk in and out, waiting for someone to pull me open so I can help.

Who is the narrator? _____

Clues: _____

5. I darted across the yard before anyone could catch me. The grass tickled my paws, and the breeze carried the scent of something interesting. I knew they would call me back soon, but exploring was way more exciting.
