Teacher's Guide

- Review the meaning of setting as where and when a story happens.
- Encourage students to point to the exact sentence that proves each answer.
- For support, read the passage aloud once and pause after each sentence to discuss what the setting tells us.
- For engagement, have students draw the cabin scene using details from the text.
- For differentiation, limit the task to four questions for emerging readers.
- For extension, ask students to change one setting detail and write a new Yes or No statement to share with a partner.
