Teacher's Guide

- Remind students that details are small facts from the story.
- Encourage students to go back to the passage and point to the sentence that proves each answer.
- For support, read one statement at a time and reread the matching part of the passage aloud.
- For engagement, let students pretend to be detectives and whisper the clue they found in the text.
- For differentiation, allow students to answer only four questions if needed.
- For extension, have students write one new Yes or No detail about the orchard scene and trade with a partner.
