Teacher's Guide

- Review the sound of the -st blend and give a few oral examples before students begin reading.
- Encourage students to read each sentence aloud or whisper-read so they can hear the final blend at the end of each word.
- Support emerging readers by modeling one sentence and showing how to scan from left to right while listening for the blend.
- For extension, invite students to write their own short sentence that includes two -st words or to create a mini word hunt by highlighting -st words in a book they are reading.
