Teacher's Guide

- Start by reviewing the -st ending and giving a few examples of real -st words.

- Encourage students to try saying the completed word out loud to decide if it sounds like a real word they know.

- Provide support by modeling how to blend the base with the -st ending and prompting students to think about familiar vocabulary.

- For extension, ask students to create two of their own incomplete base words and test whether adding -st forms real words, then share with a partner.
